

The ESA Business Incubation Centre in Harwell, UK, started its operations in 2011 and is managed by the Science and Technology Facilities Council (STFC). It is located at Harwell Campus, a world leading science, technology and business campus based in South Oxfordshire with more than 4,500 researchers, engineers and innovators from over 150 high-tech organisations, and a focal point and cluster for the UK's rapidly growing high-tech space community.

Q Shy

Customer movement analytics Software as a Service (SaaS) for transport, retail and other industries

Website

Founded in 2016 by

- Paul Coster

Incubation period

10-03-2017 to 09-03-2018

space solutions

About Q Shy

Real-time analysis and insight into customer movement using location data from mobile apps, and data from other sources, leading to improved business operations and customer experiences.

Contact info

- - City Road
 - EC1V 2NX
 - London
 - England
- team@qshy.co.uk
- -

The challenge

Coming soon

The solution

Coming soon
